

Vented Sidelites.

There's a difference between a vented sidelite
and THE Vented Sidelite.

More than a sidelite with hinges.

As the fastest growing category in hinged entry and patio doors, vented sidelites meet the needs of homeowners seeking ventilation, convenience and aesthetics.

Unlike many retrofit options or rush-to-market choices that simply put hinges on existing sidelites. Currently, Therma-Tru® creates the only continuous, complete fiberglass systems for entry and patio doors that offer decorative glass options.

Continuous Systems

Designed as fully integrated units with one hinged door and two hinged sidelites or two hinged doors (French) and hinged sidelites.

Engineered Components

Continuous, recessed strike plates, multi-point locking gears, removable screens specifically designed for sidelite applications

Structural Integrity

Specially developed wide patio mullions provide required structural strength for years of dependable operation.

A Small Door

Not a swinging window, sidelites are small, narrow doors with sturdy stiles to accommodate anchors for hinges and lock gears.

Choices ... for entry or patio.

Offer your customers a great entrance they don't have to cover with an unsightly screen door. Let them forget flimsy sliding patio screen doors. Therma-Tru® Vented Sidelites are available in Fiber-Classic® Oak Collection™ and Smooth-Star® for both entry and patio applications.

Choices ... for virtually any rough opening.

The perfect choice for new construction or remodel and replacement, Vented Sidelites work seamlessly in single hinge door or French door applications. Vented Sidelites are available in 12" & 14" sidelite widths for inswing designs.

- Single door with sidelites
 - 2'6" – 3'0" door opening widths
 - 12" & 14" sidelite widths
 - 6'6", 6'8", 8'0" heights
- French door with sidelites
 - 4'8" – 6'0" door opening widths
 - 12" & 14" sidelite widths
 - 6'6", 6'8", 8'0" heights

Choices ... with any decorative glass.

As of today, only Therma-Tru® offers Vented Sidelites with decorative glass options. So not only can you offer your customers the advantages of ventilation, convenience and security, you'll offer the aesthetic choices second to none. Choices different than any available on the market to differentiate your business.
