

Therma-Tru Announces New Innovation Center

MAUMEE, OHIO – Therma-Tru Corp., the leading entry door brand most preferred by building professionals, announced today the investment in a new innovation center to be based in Maumee, Ohio. The new 30,000 square foot facility will be near the company’s headquarters and home to the teams focused on creating innovative product solutions.

“Delivering new and impactful innovations is a key strategic initiative in support of our future growth plans,” said Brett Finley, president of Therma-Tru Corp.

“This new facility will give us more access to local talent, allow us to expand our engineering capabilities and bring cross-functional teams together as part of this important initiative.”

Therma-Tru has a strong history of market-leading innovations that have led to its number one category position. Its customer-focused approach creates innovative products that enhance a home’s curb appeal and give homeowners the customized look they desire.

“This is an investment in our future and in the local economy,” said Finley. “We are incredibly excited about this new venture and believe it will have a positive impact for our employees, customers and partners.”

The new facility will go through a design and construction phase starting in the spring with completion expected in late 2017.
